AIMS AND CONTENT
20. What issues does the resource aim to address?	“The CITES Identification Manual is a collection of data sheets designed to help identify various species of fauna and flora with drawings (black and white), photographs, maps and concise descriptions. It is a useful tool for CITES Management and Scientific Authorities, Customs officials, and all others involved in implementing and enforcing CITES... With the ever-changing landscape of species identification and the diversifying needs of users, the Secretariat and the United Nations Environment Programme-World Conservation Monitoring Centre (UNEP-WCMC) have developed a new tool aimed at improving and promoting the availability of the CITES Identification Manual, as well as other identification materials on CITES-listed species. This was made possible with the financial support from the European Union.”
21. Intended audience of resource	[Those involved in identification or management of endangered species and products derived from them]
22. Process of development	“The Identification Manual was initiated in 1977 and was first published in print (paper) format. In it was developed into an online resource as the Wiki CITES Identification Manual, where users could both search for and add (or modify) identification content.”

SDGs AND SDG TARGETS AND LINKAGES
34. Comments on SDG linkages	The resource can be used to support activity for several targets in goal 16 (peace, justice and strong institutions), including 16.3 (promoting the rule of law), 16.4 (combatting

	illicit flows, strengthening the recover and return of stolen assets, and combating all forms of organized crime), and 16.B (promote laws and policies for sustainable development). Preventing illicit trade and trafficking of objects made from protected species supports SDGs 15.7 (end poaching) and 15.C (provide support to end poaching), as well as 15.5 (end degradation of nature) and 11.4 (protect the world’s cultural and natural heritage). Using the resource to support public education and awareness programmes supports SDGs 4.7 (Education for Sustainable Development) and 12.8 (information for sustainable development and lifestyles in harmony with nature). The resource can help staff be effective in developing education and awareness-raising programmes to combat the illegal wildlife trade, supporting SDG 4.4. The resource can also help combat the use of illegal natural products in tourist products, supporting SDG 8.9, and to identify products arising from illegal and unsustainable fishing practices (such as shark fins), supporting SDG 14.4 (sustainable fishing).
