AIMS AND CONTENT
20. What issues does the resource aim to address?	“This report examines each of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and describes the outlook for achieving each one in the Asia-Pacific region. It singles out “bright spots” and “hot spots”, provides insights about each goal and points to emerging issues and reveals many of the common challenges that governments will confront as they work to develop appropriate responses to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. It represents a preliminary but comprehensive stocktaking effort in the region to provide the best available knowledge that can help governments, regional agencies and other development actors as they forge the much-needed social and political consensus on the gaps and priorities for achieving each SDG.” (Website)
21. Intended audience of resource	Policymakers, officials, and anyone who is interested in contributing to the SDGs in Asia and the Pacific
22. Process of development	“This report is a product of the Asia-Pacific SDG Partnership. Given the complexity of the SDGs, its preparation involved a multi-disciplinary team of more than 100 experts, drawn mainly from partner agencies, with contributions from various United Nations agencies.” (Website)
